OUR FOREMAN

Writes Just Words of High Praise For Mr. Clyde Hart, Who Has Charge of Mechanical Department.

The Richmond Climax, after printing our recital of difficulties because of the illness of so many connected with the office pays the following tribute to our foreman, Mr. Hart:

"Mr. Clyde Hart, the Richmond boy, who is the right man in the mechanical department of the paper is not mentioned as being 'under the weather' or unable to be at his post of duty. No indeed. He will be there working even though the entire office force breaks down and every piece of machinery refuses to run. A printing office gives him his excellent constitution."

YOUNG GIRL

IS ACQUITTED

Told of How She Was Subjected to the Third Degree and Forced to Make Confession.

DETROIT, Mich., Dec. 1.—Minnie Herman, 16 years old, who was arrested on a charge of setting fire twice to the house of her employer, was released Tuesday when her case came to trial. No one appeared against her.

According to the detectives, she had confessed her guilt. After her release she told of how she had been subjected to the 'third degree' for six straight hours and finally had been induced to tell a self-accusing lie on the promise that if she admitted her guilt the case would be dropped.

Instead of being released, according to promise, she was hustled to a cell and held for several days until her case could be brought up in Court. The police deny that they made use of the third degree.

DR. SCOVEL
PASSES AWAY

Was Former President of Wooster University and President of American Branch of Peace Society.

WOOSTER, Ohio, Dec. 1.—Dr. Sylvester F. Scovel, former President of Wooster University and President of the American Branch of the International Peace Society, died early Tuesday evening. The end was peaceful, the noted educator being unconscious for some hours.

Dr. Scovel had been seriously ill since Friday, following Thanksgiving Day. On Thursday he took dinner at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John McSweeney, and talked until 10:30 with Mr. McSweeney. He went to his Beall avenue home, read for a time, and retired at 1 a. m. An hour later he called for help. Dr. H. J. Stoll was summoned and found that Dr. Scovel was suffering from hardening of the arteries.

Saturday he became more seriously ill, and late Saturday afternoon pneumonia set in. Sunday it became necessary to use oxygen to prolong his life, and he sank steadily after that.

MOONSHINE STILL

RAIDED BY OFFICERS

Two Men in Charge Are Taken as Prisoners—Other Big Raids in Virginia Are Planned.

BRISTOL, Va., Dec. 1.—Capturing 13 prisoners and breaking up several stills, including one within daily capacity of 50 gallons, revenue agents returned to Bristol Tuesday night after one of the most successful moonshine raids in southwestern Virginia probably in years.

At Fleet Gap, Va., near the Kentucky line, in the heart of Death Mountain, where Millionaire Edward L. Wentz was lost a few years ago, the revenue men, led by Special Deputy D. A. Kinnipe, a veteran in the service, and Raiding Deputy J. McBroom, at midnight swooped down upon and captured a fifty-gallon moonshine still in full operation. Two men in charge of the still were taken as prisoners.

The agents continued their raids through the Black Mountains region and picked up 13 prisoners, whom they took to Wise Courthouse and arraigned before United States Commissioner A. L. Vicars. They were bound over and some gave bond.

Other big raids into the Southwestern Virginia moonshine region are planned. Illicit distilling is said to be on the increase as prohibition tirade are made in this region.

BOMB DESTROYS
BUSINESS BLOCK

Work is Thought to Be That of Revenge Caused By Refusal of Mar to Pay Ransom.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The kidnapping case of five years ago, in which the late Lieutenant Petrosino, who was murdered in Italy, played the part of investigator, is believed to have led indirectly to a bomb explosion in the early hours Tuesday which shook up one of the most thickly populated blocks in New York did extensive damage and created a panic in the neighborhood.

The bomb exploded in the doorway of the Bella Trinaoria saloon, in the heart of the Sicilian settlement in Elizabeth street. It completely wrecked the saloon, the front of which was blown inward, badly damaged adjacent stores, hurled sleepers in the tenements above for blocks around. The police reserves had their hands full quieting the panic-stricken foreigners who flocked to the street by hundreds.

Francesco Le Barbera is the owner of the saloon. He had left the place about half an hour before the explosion. Tuesday he gave the police his theory of the motive of the outrage. About five years ago, he said, his son, Pietro, six years old was kidnapped and he has never heard from him. The police were notified and Lieutenant Petrosino worked on the case. La Barbera received many letters threatening his life if a large sum of money was not paid for the return of the boy, but paid no attention to them, and it is believed by him that the kidnapers are now starting their revenge.

CLAIM TO HAVE

DISCOVERED GOLD

Great Find Has Been Made in Metacalf County and Much Excitement Prevails.

GLASGOW, Ky., Dec. 1.—A report from Bensonville, in Metacalf county, says that the people of that section are greatly excited over the discovery of gold. While digging post holes on his farm, James V. Love, a farmer, dug up what he believed to be gold. The matter was kept quiet three samples were sent to different assayists in different parts of the United States. The result of each test was received in due time, and was precisely the same: the ore being found to contain $1.80 to the ton.

Each of them said it would not pay to mine the ore unless it would pay $8 to the ton. Love continued his search and this week discovered in a different section on his farm a much richer ore. In this ore the gold does not follow in the seams of the rock but is found in small nuggets, from the size of a pin to that of a grain of wheat. Samples of his last discovery have been forwarded for tests and he has no fear but that it will pay from $16 to $25 per ton.

Gold was discovered in that section a few months ago while a grave was being dug. A dispute arose between the people who found the gold and the owner of the land and it was finally decided that the metal discovered was not gold and the matter was dropped. However, the present find has created much excitement and those who discovered the ore believe it to be the precious metal without a doubt.

DOCK WORKERS

SWEEPED TO SEA

Storm Was So Violent That Attempts at Rescue Futile and All Hope Was Abandoned.

ASTRAKHAN, Russia, Dec. 1.—During a sudden tempest in the Caspian sea Tuesday a landing stage on which were 300 Persian dock workers was dragged from its moorings and swept out to sea.

The storm was so violent that attempts at rescue were futile and all hope that any of the men will be saved has been abandoned.

Scores of ships, several with their crews on board, were sunk at their moorings at different Caspian coast towns.

Seven towns along the coast were flooded, the inhabitants in hundreds of cases being forced to take refuge in hay stacks. The plight of the sufferers is pitiable, as intense cold has added to the general misery.

A number of steamers have been sent from this port to aid the sufferers of the storm.

UNABLE TO REACH

ANY AGREEMENT

It is Understood That the Jury Stood Five For Plaintiff and Seven For Defendants.

OWENSBORO, Ky., Dec. 1.—The jury in the $30,000 damage suit filed by J. F. Van Hooser, formerly of Christian county, against 20 of the most prominent farmers of that county for alleged unlawful acts on their part in forcing him to take the oath of the night riders or silent brigade, reported to the court Tuesday afternoon, after it had deliberated for 2 hours, that they were unable to reach any agreement.

It is understood that the jury stood five for the plaintiff and seven for the defendants and that three of those for the plaintiff wanted to award him damages for the full amount that he claimed.

Van Hooser claimed that his life was threatened and that he sold his 150-acre farm at a sacrifice in order to leave the country, as he feared being killed.

The defendants, each of whom was placed on the stand, said they never made any threats against the man and that they were members of no secret organization, nor did they know of any such organization being in existence in that county.

AUDITORIUM.

Two new vitographs will be shown at the Auditorium Thursday afternoon and night. All managers of picture theatres look forward to securing the vitograph as it is considered the best picture made. The subjects for Thursday are "Three Cherry Riffs" or the Veteran's Honor, and "Mrs. Barrington's House Party," or "An Oddrate Father." There has been several changes made in the heating arrangement of the theatre so there will be no more trouble in the future in heating the building. The afternoon session begins promptly at 3 o'clock and runs until 4 o'clock. Night session begins at 7 and continues until 10 o'clock.

MISS HAMILTON
MAKES ADDRESS

Before Eastern Kentucky Normal School—Matchless Diction and Personal Magnetism Held Audience Spellbound.

RICHMOND, Ky., Dec. 1.—Among the many delightful and charming literary treats afforded Eastern Normal community during the year, the addresses of Miss Meddie Ovington Hamilton on Tuesday, November 29, will hold a prominent place. Miss Hamilton is traveling extensively during the winter season throughout the South and Dr. Crabbe was indeed fortunate in securing her for the day.

At Chapel Exercises in the morning she delivered an exquisite address upon the relation of the Aesthetic and the Moral, drawing her themes from Lowell's Vision of Sir Launfal. Her matchless diction and personal magnetism held her audience within her power until the last word was uttered. She spoke with ease and grace, and with magnetic force. In the afternoon she spoke before the Women's Club at the Elks Lodge room, by the courtesy of President Crabbe. The topic was "The Drama."

At night, as a special number of the Richmond Lecture Course, she delivered another wonderfully helpful address to the Normal community and holders of course tickets, on Wordsworth. She proved herself remarkably well informed along literary lines and master of her subject on the platform. Miss Hamilton's personality is itself a strong attractive force, her voice is pleasant and her familiarity with her themes adds charm to her addresses.

OVER $25,000
IS COLLECTED

Last Day For Payment of County Taxes is a Busy One For the Sheriff's Office.

The sheriff's office was the busiest place in the city Wednesday. It was the last day for settling with the sheriff for taxes before the penalty went on and from early morning until after 11 o'clock at night the window at the office was crowded. All the force was kept busy receiving money while Mr. R. S. Scobee, deputy, was rushed giving receipts. Over $25,000 was taken in during the day.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

COMPLIMENTS STORY.

To the Editor: Some days ago in your paper I read with deep interest "By the Will of the People, a story of the Pardon-Power," written by our accomplished fellow townsman, E. Jonett Simpson, and published first in the September issue of the Sterling Magazine. I was a little timid about noticing it, fearing I was not the right one, but I can wait no longer, so strongly was I impressed.

Mr. Simpson shows himself an artist in story telling, marshalling his facts with ingenuity and so cleverly that the careful workmanship is hid under smooth, attractive English and thrilling interest, so that the casual reader does not appreciate it unless his attention is called to it. This is the chief aim of literary art. He brings on his climax with skill and a thrill in every line. I found myself constantly saying "He has built his climax too rapidly; he can never surpass this effect," but the next paragraph would refute my prophecy; and the climax, reached in Gov. Stephens' reply to the committee, surpassed all that had gone before; yet in good taste and not a bit over-drawn. He is to be congratulated on his handling the nameless crime in such a way as could not bring a blush on the fairest cheek if read aloud; and he teaches the lesson of popular sovereignty with force and accuracy. Those who have read the story will bear me out in my opinion that it is one of the best of its kind that has appeared. Hoping that Mr. Simpson will continue his literary efforts, for which he has shown such aptitude, I am,

TO SELL FLORIDA
ORANGES IN CITY

Mr. Vic Bloomfield Will Bring Many Boxes From His Grove to Wholesale in Winchester.

Wholesaling oranges is the new business Mr. Vic Bloomfield has now entered. His grove at Daytonia, Florida, is now bearing and from reports he has received it is doing unusually well this season. Wednesday morning Mr. Bloomfield received a weigh bill for 50 boxes of oranges. As soon as they arrive he will retail them to the merchants in this city. The oranges come direct from the grove without being handled or stored away for a long time and will be good sellers on the local market.

SELLS HOUSE FOR $275.

Mr. Vic Bloomfield Wednesday afternoon sold one of the houses he recently purchased from Mr. R. P. Scobee in North Park to Mr. R. J. Sidwell for $275.

FIRST REAL

WINTER DAYS

Wednesday and Thursday Indicate That the Cold Season is at Hand.

Wednesday and Thursday were the first real winter days. The thermometer began falling early Wednesday morning and continued all day. About dark snow began falling and the ground was white Thursday morning. The snow continued to fall until late in the day on Thursday and the thermometer stood around the freezing point.

OFFICER'S TRIAL

IS POSTPONED

Policeman Ballard Cannot Be Tried on Account of the Absence of County Attorney Davis.

The trial of John Ballard, deputy policeman, was postponed Wednesday night on account of the absence of County Attorney S. T. Davis, who was called to Bath county on legal business. It is probable that Attorney Davis will return Thursday afternoon and in case he does the trial will be held Thursday night.

Judge Evans Appoints Tax Board For the Year—Well Known Citizens in List.

Thursday afternoon Judge J. H. Evans appointed tax supervisors for 1910. The gentlemen appointed are some of the best that could be obtained and are well qualified for the appointment, some of them having served on the board for many years. They are as follows: S. W. Purcell, Jasper McDonald, L. B. Cockrell, W. T. Gordon, Howard Watts, J. W. Wheeler and J. M. Rash. The first meeting of the board will be held the first Monday in January.

MAKES CUT OF
MANY MILLIONS

President Taft Issues Ultimatum to Various Cabinet Officers About National Expenses.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—A cut of $14,000,000 in the estimates for the running expenses of the government during the next fiscal year was reported to President Taft Wednesday as a result of his ultimatum to the various heads of departments at the cabinet conference Tuesday.

The President was greatly gratified with the showing but declared there must be a still deeper cut, so the cabinet meeting scheduled for Wednesday was postponed until Friday to allow the cabinet officers to make another revision.

The delay in the preparation of the President's message is said to be due to the necessity of waiting for final estimates.

By Friday, it is expected, the message will be ready for consideration by the Cabinet.

Just as soon as the message is out of the way, the President will devote the next three or four days to seeing Senators and Representatives regarding the legislative program. He will not take up the appointments to the Supreme Court and the Court of Commerce until the latter part of next week, and the judiciary nominations will not be ready for the Senate until the second week of the session.

ENJOYABLE
DINNER PARTY

Mr. J. E. Grubbs Lavishly Entertains in Honor of His Wife's Uncle, Mr. C. W. Durham.

On Wednesday at 12 o'clock the drawing room of the spacious and beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. John Oden was a scene of unusual hospitality and good cheer when Mr. J. E. Grubbs was the genial host at a dinner party given in honor of his wife's uncle, Mr. C. W. Durham, of Carlisle, Ky., an ex-Confederate soldier.

Mr. Durham was Orderly Sergeant of Co. D, 9th Ky. Cavalry, in Morgan's command, while the guests, with the exception of Mr. Curtis, who was under Gen. Jacob Stewart, were also Morgan men.

Mrs. Grubbs, Mrs. Graves (sister of the guest of honor) and Mrs. Oden enjoyed the company for only a few moments, for it was evident that these "Old Comrades" wanted to tell war stories, exchange jokes and enter into a reliving of the days that none save those who were a real part could appreciate.

At 1 o'clock an elegant four-course dinner was served by Mrs. T. F. Moore whom every one pronounced a genius in the realm of epicures. Upon parting in the afternoon at 3 o'clock, after a reviewing of much that made hearts young again, Mr. Durham made a speech to the Old Veterans which was a fitting close to such a gathering.

The guests upon this occasion were Mr. B. F. Curtis, Mr. H. C. Gillispie, Mr. Carl Calmes, Mr. Squire Tevis, Mr. R. T. Scobee, Mr. W. H. Tucker, Mr. J. W. Moore, Mr. Jasper McDonald, and Mr. John Oden.

REAL ESTATE DEALS.

Mr. R. A. Scobee Thursday morning closed a deal for two pieces of property in this city. One was a house and lot on Winn avenue to Mr. R. P. Scobee. The price was private. The other was a house and lot on Georgia street to John S. Rainey. Price $1 and other considerations.

BURIED FOR HOURS

AND STILL ALIVE

Local Miner is Dug Out of Mine By His Companions and Found Unhurt.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Dec. 1.—Though buried under coal and rock for six hours and subjected to repeated falls of roof, which greatly impeded rescuers, who thought him dead, Harry Boulinger, Eckhart Mines, this county, lives and will recover.

Nineteen willing fellow workers had almost reached Boulinger when stopped by another fall, which barely missed them. The men tunneled under this fall to find, to their surprise and delight, that Boulinger was alive and able to walk.

The mass was continually moving, and but one man could work in the tunnel at a time, lying flat and scratching the dirt with his hands.

When Boulinger was uncovered one leg was found doubled up under him and the other was stretched out. A lump of coal weighted down the foot. The men tried to pull him out by main strength, but the big lump held him. A crib was then built over Boulinger to keep the fall from setting down and smothering him. Six men then cleared away the fall, freeing him.

SLAYER OF ALMA
KELLNER ON TRIAL

Courtroom is Crowded in Louisville to Listen to Testimony Against Wendling.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 1.—A tragic tale, alleged to be that of the atrocious slaying of little Alma Kellnes, 8-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kellner, on December 8 last, began to unfold in the Criminal Court of Jefferson county Wednesday when the first witness for the State was called. The courtroom was thronged.

For the first time since the child disappeared her father, Fred Kellner, testified under oath. He was the first witness called by the commonwealth. He was followed by Miss Elizabeth Weitzel, an aunt of the missing child. Miss Weitzel identified a glove alleged to have been found about the church as one worn by Alma Kellner.

The evidence up to the placing of Benedict Thomas, the janitor, who succeeded Wendling, on the stand Wednesday afternoon had been against Wendling, but Thomas flatly contradicted Miss Weitzel regarding the glove. On cross-examination he was shown the glove and said he had seen the glove about the premises "in the summer of 1909, long before Joseph Wendling took charge of the church as janitor."

He said if it is not the glove he saw there it is the exact counterpart of it. He said he himself had swept and kicked it about the premises.

Throughout the gruesome tale Wendling sat undisturbed, at times laughing.

Probably one of the strongest witnesses was James M. Peyton, a writer. He testified that December 27 he went to St. John Church to read a meter in the music room, under which the body was found, and that Wendling at first refused to let him enter. Peyton said he was compelled to threaten to see Father Schuhmann, when Wendling reluctantly unlocked the door and permitted him to go in. He said Wendling watched him until he left. Father Schuhmann also testified.

TRAIN ROBBER
IS SHOT DEAD

Negro is Caught While Robbing Passengers in Arkansas.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Dec. 1.—Jack Thomas, a negro, aged 35 years, of Blytheville, Ark., was shot and instantly killed Wednesday night when robbing passengers on a Memphis-St. Louis-Frisco train.

A. B. Walton, of this city, a watchman employed by the Frisco, terminated the negro's aspirations to be a real Jesse James.

The train had just started across the Mississippi River bridge, at this point, when Thomas entered the smoking compartment immediately behind the section assigned to negroes.

Several men sitting at the front end of the coach looked up in surprise at seeing a negro stalk in, but their nervous systems were given a more severe shock when he whipped out a gun and commanded:

"Hands up! I mean business! Don't move, I say, or I'll plug you sure!"

The negro then proceeded to go through pockets of passengers, and had relieved a number of them of money and watches, when Walton, gun in hand, dashed back through the cars until he reached the smoker.

As Walton appeared in the door, Thomas, who was searching the pockets of Frank Neil, a Frisco yard clerk, at Howard, Ark., pointed his weapon at him. Walton fired once, striking Thomas directly over the heart, killing him instantly.

HON JOE M. KENDALL'S SPEECH.

As a specimen of mountain oratory the following has no equal. It was delivered by the Hon. Joe M. Kendall, introducing Senator J. B. Mc-Creary at West Liberty, Ky., just before the late election:
My Countrymen:You are paying tribute to Caesar
and yet you have never seen Caesar.
The biggest gun in this Old Commonwealth will this day thunder against this tribute from this united and impregnable Gibraltar of highland Democracy. If time permitted, it would be a grateful task for me to recall and recount in set phrase and with that high courtesy due our distinguished guest. The long and loving public services of this most excellent man, upon whom the eyes of multitudes who have long known and always honored and trusted him, are now riveted in him hope that they will find a great, good government, able, tranquil, conservative and economical. It has been a long time since we have had one. I need scarcely say that to see this noble Roman much less hear him, will leave the sentiment of Morgan county, and the cluster of counties that encircle it all moving in the direction of a better time, much improved. I doubt not that in our short, simple, local annals this day will be marked with a white stone commemorating a coming and a career that which our political history furnishes few more striking, more successful or more attractive. I may even say, more romantic.If to come out of the army from under the bony blue flag furred forever, bareheaded and bareheaded and then going out in the world to make his own living with no capital but a character etched from the white caravan marble of true, pure and brave manhood, casting his lot in one of the wealthiest, cultured and most exclusive communities in the State and winning and holding to this good day, the confidence and affection of that community which he has never relinquished or abdicated.
Elected a member of the Kentucky Legislature, where the speakership came to him easily and naturally at a time when such statesmen as J. D.

WINCHESTER LUMBER & MANUFACTURING CO.

Bright considered that office, an added distinction to conspicuous national service. A governor who will take rank in history with Lazarus W.
Powell and others like unto him. A representative in the popular branch of Congress, the guide, counselor and friend of Mills, Wilson and Hurd, the matchless advocates of the "Kentucky Idea," christened into Tariff Reform. Being, I believe, also during all the years of Democratic supremacy, the chairman of the committee on Foreign Affairs, where his fine sense, urbane manners and diplomatic cast of mind won for him the respect of every foreign legation resident in Washington. Then translated to the Senate where his ability, dignity, composure and conservatism shown resplendent.
A member of the International Monetary Conference he won a reputation both solid and brilliant, confined to no land or clime. Never in any office rattling in his seat and in all of them rising to the level of every opportunity and responsibility—always insisting that the burden of unequal taxation be lifted from the bowed, bent backs of the people; put there by the banded interests of greed and avarice under the corbistry and corruption of high protection; never uttering a word or casting a vote that did not reflect the interest of the poorest citizen amongst his constituents, to put it a little stronger, never ever voting with Aldrich, Cannon and Payne and such Senators Bradleys
do. (And for ways that are dark and tricks that are vain, the heathen
Chinee is peculiar and that heathen Chinee is the same William O. Bradley.) Inferior, it may be in sublimity of conception to John Young Brown, less persuasive than Breckenridge, less fervid than Blackburn, and less brilliant than the star-eyed goddess of the Courier-Journal, he yet adorned with a logic rarely equalled, I may say, equalled only by Carlisle, every public question of his time, and who now with eye undimmed and mental faculties unimpaired, with no flaw on his stainless integrity, with no break in his indomitable courage for truth, still loving his friends and forgiving his enemies—at an age of fifteen years younger than Gladstone, when as Prime Minister of England he held safe in his hands the destinies of the British Empire in every quarter of the globe.
This statesman, who never graduated from the Kentucky Kindergarten, and yet who never laid down an office that he did not hear the welcome plaudit, "well done," has loyally and dutifully answered the call of a scattered, distracted and tax-ridden people and has agreed to take up the heat of the day and leadership of the hour and if necessary to die with the harness on. If this man be not great, my countrymen, then greatness is a quality no longer to be encouraged on Democratic soil.It is indeed a high honor, I may say, a most precious personal privilege for me to introduce to you this pure, safe simple statesman, my fathers, comrades, colleague and friend—the most eminent statesman unburied amongst all the Kentuckians
—The Hon. James B. McCreary.

who died May 13, 1905, aged 105 years and 16 days. There are 338 widows of the War of 1812 now on the roll.The oldest Civil War veteran now on the roll is 108 years of age. It is the custom of all nations to give pensions to soldiers. Ours is not an exception.The money to pay Government pensions comes from revenue taxes and import duties. No part of it comes from direct taxation. There are unworthy pensioners, and there may be those that have obtained pensions by fraud but this can only be to a limited extent. The money received by the pensioners goes directly into circulation. Referring to this phase of the subject, the National Tribune says:"The pensioners are represented at nearly every post office in the United States in fairly equal numbers. They get their money in small amounts, and proceed at once to expend it among their immediate neighbors, so that everyone gets the full benefit. The ingenuity of man has not heretofore developed any other means so prompt, so general and so equable as this. The money goes in proper ratio to every little community and neighborhood, and then does the work of many times the sum disbursed in quickening the circulation of ready money in the community, in stimulating the activity of trade and preventing the stringency which comes from congestion of the money in great centers. When Comrade William Jones gets his quarterly $36 he does not hoard it up, but immediately puts it in circulation, paying the butcher a few dollars, the baker a few dollars, the physician a small amount, and so on among all of his neighbors. These in turn pay off their debts with it, and the money they receive from the other veterans,

SURELY BREAKS UP A BAD COLD

The Most Severe Cold and Grippe
Misery Will Be Relieved in Just a Few Hours.It is a positive fact that a dose of Pape's Cold Compound taken every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken will cure Grippe or break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach or limbs.You distinctly feel the cold breaking and all the disagreeable grippie symptoms leaving after the very first dose. It promptly ends the most miserable headache, neuralgia pains, dullness, head and nose stuffed up feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.Pape's Cold Compound is the result of three years' research at a cost of more than fifty thousand dollars and contains no quinine, which we have conclusively demonstrated is not effective in the treatment of colds or grippe.Take this harmless Compound ad-directed, with the knowledge that there is no other medicine, made anywhere else in the world, which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-

For the most part the methods of

HUNTING SEASON COST 113 LIVES

Many Hunters Are Mistaken For Deer or Shot By a Companion This Year.COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 1.—The hunting season of 1910, which practically closed Wednesday, cost 113 lives. This is considerably more than were killed during any previous season. The loss of life in 1909 was 87, in 1908, 57, in 1907, 82, and in 1906, 74.The number of injured this season,
however, is less than a year ago, only 81 having been hurt this year, against 104 for the season of 1909. It is likely the death list this year will be considerably increased later by reason of the fatal termination in the cases of many of the injured."Mistaken for a deer" and "shot by companion" continue to lead as the reason for the shooting of hunters.
It is small wonder there are so many cases of hunters being mistaken for game, as in some States the forestpractically are alive with hunters during the season. The State Game Warden of Michigan estimated that there were no less than 21,000 hunters in the upper peninsula this year.

Captured By the Indians.

One of the most interesting offerings of the season will be the forthcoming production of the beautiful Indian Opera Powhattan by local talent, under the personal direction of Mr. Albert L. Baker, an experienced opera director and promoter who comes to us with the best kind of testimonials from other towns and cities.

Powhattan has for its principal theme the capture of John Smith by the Indians and his thrilling rescue by Pocahontas, the beautiful Indian Princess. The music of Powhattan is catchy, tuneful and possesses much merit; the incidents are within the keeping of the environment of the ideal Indian of the long ago before his contamination with the evils of civilization, the Fennimore Cooper idealistic notion of the noble red men prevails.

There is a very capable cast of leading characters, a well trained and effective chorus of Indian maidens, all in beautiful brilliant costume of a kind of barbaric splendor, of bead and fringe work, and bright colors galore; there will be special scenery and electrical effects to add to the charm of the romantic and fantastic production.

No time, care or expense has been spared in making this production one of the best of the kind, and worthy the patronage of our best people, and it is being given under the auspices of the Daughters of the Confederacy, for the promotion and furtherance of their good work of a helpful charitable nature.

The production of this historical Indian opera will be given at the opera house on Thursday, December 15th.

Marriage Announcement.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Rueker announce the marriage of their daughter, Viola, to Mr. Ira N. Welton, at their home on Wednesday, December 7 at 2:30 o'clock. No cards, but relations and friends are invited.

Mrs. Strother Entertains.

Mrs. Harry Strother entertained the Euchre Club on Wednesday afternoon in a very charming manner, at her elegant home on South Main street.

The decorations were gracefully done in mistletoe, a great bell of this beautiful green being suspended from the handsome chandelier. Immense white and yellow chrysanthemums were also artistically used.

Mrs. Roll Ratliff, Mrs. Will Massie and Mrs. Charles Strother, in handsome afternoon gowns, assisted the attractive hostess in entertaining her guests.

The games were played with great enthusiasm and enjoyed to the utmost by the participants. At the conclusion of these, delicious pink, white and chocolate brick cream was served with dainty pink and white cakes.

Later in the afternoon the guest enjoyed fragrant coffee and sandwiches. The affair was one of the prettiest ever given in the experience of the club members.

Mrs. George Green will entertain the Club on next Thursday.

Accepts Position.

Mr. Allan R. Rankin, of the county, has accepted a position as salesman for the McEwan Produce Company on North Main street. Mr. Rankin is a brother of Dr. J. Nelson Rankin, of this city.

Exchange and Luncheon.

The ladies of the Central Baptist church will have an exchange on Saturday. They will also serve a noon-day luncheon, consisting of hot chocolate and other things.

Mrs. Kate Bullitt, of Frankfort, spent several days this week with Mrs. W. A. Beatty.

Mrs. J. E. Grubbs has returned from a visit to Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Williams, in Paris.

Miss Polly Lisle is ill of la grippe. Mr. W. W. Ecton, of the firm of Ecton and Hardman, will be in Cincinnati for the next few days.

Mr. Steve Davis is in Owingsville on business.

MAKES HIS CONFESSION

Dr. Cook Says That He Does Not Know Whether He Reached the North Pole or Not.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Dr. Fredrick A. Cook, the Brooklyn explorer, in an article which will be published in Hampton's Magazine, confesses that he does not know whether he reached the North Pole or not. Dr. Cook, who has been in hiding for over a year, has informed the editors of the magazine publishing his story that he will return to the United States with his wife and children December 22 in order to spend Christmas here.

Dr. Cook in his story, deals with the psychology of his adventure, and says:

"Did I get to the North Pole? Perhaps I made a mistake in thinking that I did. Perhaps I did not make a mistake. After mature thought, I confess that I do not know absolutely whether I reached the Pole or not. This may come as an amazing statement, but I am willing to startle the world, if, by so doing, I can get an opportunity to present my case. By my case I mean not my case as a geographical discoverer, but my case as a man. Much as the attainment of the North Pole once meant to me, the sympathy and confidence of my fellow-men mean more."

"Fully, freely and frankly, I shall tell you everything. Tell me everything—and leave the decision with you."

If, after reading my story, you say, 'Cook is sincere and honest; half-crazed by months of isolation and hunger, he believed he reached the Pole, he is not a faker,' then I shall be satisfied."

Dr. Cook tells the story of his life and pictures what he calls the overpowering ambition for exploration that beset him until it finally culminated in his effort to reach the pole.

Was Half Mad.

Dr. Cook declares that at the time he convinced himself that he had discovered the Pole he was half mad. He spent two years in his quest, and during that time endured hunger and privation that, he says, would unbalance any mind.

BOILER OF BELL COAL COMPANY

Explodes With Crash That Is Heard
Five Miles Away and Two Men
Are Killed.

STURGIS, Ky., Dec. 1.—With a crash and roar that was heard here, five miles from the mines, the boiler of the Bell Union Coal Company at the Bell's mines, on Tradewater river, exploded Tuesday night and instantly killed Manager J. T. Gifford and Charles Travis, who were operating the power plant. Both bodies were literally blown to pieces, and the head of Engineer Travis was blown from his body and has not yet been found.

The mines had not been in operation for some time, and had just been pumped out and everything put in working order for inspection by a party of St. Louis capitalists, who arrived Tuesday to look over the property with a view to investing in the plant, which controls the famous Bell vein of coal.

There were several miners at work in the slope when the explosion occurred in the engine room, and search was made by these men all during the night and Wednesday morning for the head of Engineer Travis. Both men leave families.

Manager Gifford came here from St. Louis several years ago, secured an interest in the property and became manager of the mines.

The Bell Union Coal Company was organized by the late Col. W. W. Smith, of Nashville, Tenn.; Col. T. J. Scott and other wealthy capitalists of St. Louis, and the coal field was partly developed before the war by John Bell, of Tennessee.

A BOLD STEP

To overcome the well-grounded and reasonable objections of the more intelligent to the use of secret, medicinal compounds, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., some time ago, decided to make a bold departure from the usual course pursued by the makers of put-up medicines for domestic use, and so has published broad-cast and openly to the whole world, a full and complete list of all the ingredients entering into the composition of his widely celebrated medicines.

Thus Dr. Pierce has taken his numerous patrons and patients into his full confidence. Thus too he has removed his medicines from among secret nostrums of doubtful merits and placed them in a class all by themselves by making them remedies OF KNOWN COMPOSITION. By this bold step Dr. Pierce has shown that his formulas are of such excellence that he is not afraid to subject them to the fullest scrutiny.

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, torpid liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same.

From this little book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral agents or other poisonous or injurious agents and that they are made from native, medicinal roots of great value; also that some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, nervous, overworked, "run-down," nervous and debilitated women, were employed, long years ago, by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their squaws. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was known to the Indians as "Squaw-Weed." Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native, medicinal plants was gained from the Indians.

As made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

DEAD COMES TO LIFE.

BURLINGTON, N. J., Dec. 1.—The crowd at the Metropolitan Hotel was given the scare of their lives Tuesday night when a farmer named Bazzy came to life 10 minutes after he had been pronounced dead, and while two Coroners were engaged in a heated argument as to which should take charge of the case.

Bazzy was found apparently lifeless in a room in the hotel, and the undertaker and Coroners were notified. Ready for the trip to the morgue, the "corpse" removed the blanket covering and exclaimed:

"Where am I? What's the matter?"

His malady is a peculiar kidney trouble, about which the physicians are much puzzled.

ROAD 380 MILES LONG
BUILT IN ONE HOUR.

A dirt road 380 miles long, and stretching across the entire State of Iowa was built in one hour's time by a force of 10,000 men. It seems that at a good roads meeting in Des Moines last spring the suggestion was made and received with general approval. Preliminary planning and organization followed, the Republican and Democratic local committees working in friendly rivalry for the common end. When the word was given, the long army of builders went to work and in an hour the road was finished. Probably 380 miles an hour is a record.—The Survey.

DID WE GIVE THANKS? TO WHOM DID WE DO SO?

The Celebrated Brooklyn Pastor
Back From Britain.

Oklahoma City, Nov. 27.—Pastor Russell of Brooklyn Tabernacle addressed large audiences here twice today in our principal Auditorium. We report one of his addresses from the following text: "O, give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good; for his mercy endureth forever."—Psalm cxli, 1.

Thanksgiving Day appeals to all of us, and we are glad that the Pilgrim Fathers long years ago started the custom. They placed it at the end of the harvest and in recognition of the same. The keeping of such a day appeals to all civilized mankind in a considerable degree, because our Great Creator so organized us that the quality of reverence, of worship, lies prominently on the top of our heads. The man or woman, rich or poor, educated or ignorant, bond or free, who has not this organ of veneration developed in considerable measure cannot be appreciative and deferential toward his Creator, and hence would not enjoy Thanksgiving day. We are glad that these are comparatively few. We are glad to suppose that the majority of this great nation of civilization looked up to God with grateful hearts and rendered him thanks for blessings manifested.

Hindrances to True Reverence.

Nevertheless, the numbers increase yearly of those who are losing their reverence for the God of the Bible and vaguely turning towards a God of Nature, of whom they profess to know comparatively little. These irreverent and unthankful fellow-creatures are not generally the most ignorant of our race, nor the least favored in temporal mercies and blessings. Among them are many learned, wealthy, influential. Their condition is well represented by that of a young woman who called at my study recently. In substance she said, "I have lost my God. I am unhappy. I am hoping that you will be able to assist me in finding him again." Thank God, we were able to assist her, and now she is able to give thanks to God in all sincerity.

I am not speaking to the irreverent in this audience, nor to those of this class in my larger audience of millions all over the world, to whom I speak through the public press. I am speaking to others who, while not yet fully in the faith, are still disposed to give thanks. I speak to these because I realize that each day is bringing to the world greater intelligence, more independent thoughtfulness, in a wider use of reason. I speak because my experience teaches that unless these be fully armed with the Truth and awakened to independent thought, they are almost certain to fall into unbelief—Evolution, Higher Criticism, and a mere form of godliness, which denies the real power thereof.

The Truth Shall Make You Free.

The Great Teacher prayed for his followers, "Sanctify them through Thy Truth; thy Word is Truth (John xvii, 17). To be fortified with the Truth is to be safeguarded against the error. To be ignorant of the Truth is to fall a prey to the error—especially in this "evil day," when "a thousand shall fall at thy side and ten thousand at thy right hand" (Psalm cxi, 7). The difficulty with us has been that many have supposed that the conversion of the world and its sanctification can be better accomplished by misrepresentation of Divine Character and Justice. Unconsciously we have learned to twist and interpret our Bibles to fit the erroneous creeds which were handed to us by our well-meaning forefathers. The Day of Judgment upon these false creeds is upon us. Unless we learn that they do not properly interpret the Bible, we will reject the Bible when we reject the creeds—and that must be very soon for all thinking people. "To the Law and to the testimony; if they speak not according to this Word, it is because there is no light in them" (Isaiah viii, 20).

Causes For Ingratitude.

"Come, let us reason together, saith the Lord." If our creeds tell us truly that we were all born damned, either to Purgatory or to eternal torment, should we give thanks on this account? If our creeds tell truly that an elect handful of saints will escape the torture, how do we know whether or not we belong to that elect handful? Have we sufficient information on this subject to give thanks therefore? If our creeds tell truly that nearly all of our neighbors and friends, being unsanctified, not "sanctified in Christ Jesus," not followers in the footsteps of Jesus, not of those "who walk not after the flesh, but after the spirit"—these all, except a mere handful, are doomed to more horrible torture than the worst earthly sufferings we could possibly imagine for them, and are doomed to these for centuries in Purgatory, according to the Catholic; or for all eternity, according to our Protestant theories, can we honestly thank God for any of these conditions, if we believe them to be true? Can we "worship in spirit and in truth" a Creator who would make such an atrocious plan? And could we respect his honesty if he labelled it "good tidings of great joy to all people"? Assuredly we could not!

If the foregoing things which have come down to us from the "Dark Ages" be true, of what consequence, in comparison, would be the material harvest of earth, which would merely encourage and stimulate the bringing into being of larger numbers of our race to experience those tortures? If these things be true, rather should we give thanks for famine and pestilence, which would obliterate our race entirely and thus save future thousands of millions from the horrors of eternal torture. These thoughts will come to all intelligent beings sooner or later. We bring them forward now, in order that we may offset them with the Truth—that we may show the fallacy of those "doctrines of devils," as St. Paul designates them (I Timothy iv, 1). We bring them to your attention so that we may not only demolish them, but give you instead the true, satisfactory portion, the Truth, the Bread that came down from heaven to give life eternal, not merely to the saints of the Church, but to mankind in general. Those who get the proper view of our Creator and of his glorious Plan for human salvation will be forever protected from such fears and doubts respecting Divine goodness. Getting the proper view of the Heavenly Father's character, through the discernment of his Plan of the Ages for spiritual Israel, natural Israel and the world in general, they will hereafter be able to celebrate every Thanksgiving Day much more abundantly, much more intelligently, much more happily than any in the past. More than this, to these every day will be a happy day if rightly exercised by the goodness of God, they shall give him their hearts. Then truly they may say,

"O happy day that fixed my choice
On thee, my Savior and my God!
Well may this glowing heart rejoice,
And tell its raptures all abroad."

God's Mercy Endureth Forever.

In the Psalm from which our text is taken the Prophet David repeats this sentiment of Thanksgiving to God because of the ever-continuance of his mercy, twenty-six times. Our English translation does not give us the exact thought, however. Properly translated it would read, "O give thanks, for his mercy endureth ever." The word evermore nearly represents the thought of the Hebrew, which signifies not for ever, but to a completion. As long as there is any use for mercy, God's mercy will continue. When the great Divine Program shall have been accomplished, when "every creature in heaven, and in earth, and under the earth, shall be heard saying, Praise and glory and honor, dominion and might be unto him that sitteth upon the throne and unto the Lamb forever" (Revelation v, 13), then there will no longer be need for mercy; mercy will have accomplished its work.

Justice signifies the setting aside of mercy in some manner, for some reason. Justice is the foundation of God's throne—the foundation of the Divine Government. Justice had control of Father Adam and offered him eternal life in an Eden home, as a reward for obedience; or death, extinction, as the penalty for disobedience. As Divine Wisdom had foreknown, man disobeyed and the penalty of Justice, "Dying thou shalt die," was executed. Through heredity all of Adam's race became involved—all inherited sinful tendencies and dying constitutions.

For more than two thousand years death reigned under the edict of Justice, and our race as a whole were subject to it. A little later the Law Covenant was made with Israel—one nation out of many. It seemed to offer mercy, but did not. They were placed under the Law and were merely offered eternal life if they could keep the Law—which they could not keep, because of inherited blemishes, moral and physical.

It was over four thousand years from the time Justice struck the fatal blow, until Divine mercy stepped forward with the healing balm. God's mercy is his love in active operation for the relief of the condemned. Although God is Love, and hence must always have been loving and kind and merciful of disposition, yet this quality of his character was held in restraint as respects condemned men for more than forty centuries. So the Apostle explains, saying, "Herein was manifested the love of God, in that he sent his only-begotten Son into the world" "that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life" (I John iv, 9; John iii, 16).

But meantime the darkness of sin and the misrepresentations of Divine character by the Adversary had so operated upon the fallen race that—eyes had they, but they saw not; ears had they, but they understood not; hearts had they, but they comprehended not, the message of Divine mercy. They fulfilled the Scriptures in slaying the One sent for their relief. And they have misunderstood, slandered, maligned, "killed" his followers—the few blessed with the hearing ears and the understanding hearts and the eyes of faith. These few constitute what the Scriptures designate the true Church of God, including the Apostles and all the faithful throughout this Age—the household of faith, "the Church of the First-Born, whose names are written in Heaven" (Hebrews xii, 23). These constitute the Little Flock, to whom it is the Father's good pleasure to give the Kingdom, which shortly (Messiah's Kingdom) is to bless and uplift the world, operating through natural Israel.

Mercy Rejoiceth Over Justice.

Man's necessity became God's opportunity for the display of his glorious character—perfect in Justice, Wisdom, Love and Power. While love could not clear the guilty, it could provide a Redeemer to suffer, "the Just for the unjust." But Divine Justice could not allow this, unless with the consent of the sufferer. Hence we read that God set before his only-begotten Son a glorious Plan and invited his co-operation therein. The Son assented, left the heavenly glory, was made flesh and "offered himself" an acceptable sacrifice, "the Just for the unjust"—for the redemption of Adam and his race. The Father honored him by raising him from the dead to a still higher glory and honor than he had before, to immortality—the divine nature. Now, from his glorious station, he is empowered to be the Mediator between God and men—between Divine Justice and fallen humanity. He is empowered to give the earthly rights which he sacrificially laid down for Adam and his race—to so many of them as will accept the perfection of human nature and its rights and privileges upon terms in harmony with the Divine Law—the remainder he will destroy, annihilate "as brute beasts" (I Peter ii, 12; Acts iii, 23).

As though all this were not sufficiently wonderful; as though with all this the Heavenly Father's Wisdom, Justice, Love and Power would not be sufficiently illustrated, exemplified, God added another feature. Before beginning to deal with the world as a whole, to give back to the willing and obedient of the race human perfection and an earthly Eden Paradise and eternal life, before commencing this work of restitution (Acts iii, 26), the Father made known to the Son another feature of his Plan. He would give to the Son a Bride, a class selected from amongst the fallen race—called, chosen, faithful overcomers. These, as the Joint-Heirs of the Second Adam, will share with him in the uplifting of those of Adam's race who will become the children of Christ through obedience and adoption.

The trials and testings of all those who will become the Bride of Christ must be similar to those of the Redeemer. They must suffer with him if they would reign with him. As he sacrificed his earthly life and rights and interests, so must they. He exhorted them, "Present your bodies living sacrifices, holy and acceptable to God, a reasonable service" (Romans xii, 1). True, there is a difference between these followers of Jesus and the Captain of their salvation. He was brought into the world holy, harmless, undefiled and separate from sinners; hence his sacrifice is a perfect one. Those accepted as his members, as his Bride, belong to the race of sinners. They were "children of wrath even as others" (Ephesians ii, 3). Their acceptance as sacrifices, therefore, was not possible except as the great Captain of their Salvation imparted to them a sufficiency of the merit of his sacrifice to compensate for their defects and to make their sacrifices acceptable to the Father with his and as a part of his—being counted in with him as "members of his Body."

My dear friends, those of us who have the eye of faith and the hearing of faith to appreciate this, the Message of God's Word, may surely be thankful to the last degree. What more could our Heavenly Father do for us than he has done—redeeming us, inviting us to a new nature, giving us the aids by the way, and making us sharers in the Kingdom glory of his Son? More than this, he has been blessing our friends, our children, our parents, our neighbors, the heathen—all of mankind, of one family.

Thanks Because God Is Good.

"O, give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good; for his mercy endureth forever." During this Gospel Age his mercy has been manifest to all those who take up their cross and follow Jesus. By and by these will be glorified by the "First Resurrection." Then his mercy will return to natural Israel, under the New Covenant (Jeremiah xxxi, 31), of which Christ and the Church are "Able Ministers," Servants, Priests and Kings. Could all the world discern, through the trials and tears and sorrows and imperfections and failings of their present experience, the glorious outcome which God is providing the whole world, they would be filled with praise to him who loved us and bought us back from the penalty of death and who ultimately will complete his glorious work through Messiah's Kingdom.

Have we not, as followers of the Lord, as Christians, misrepresented the facts of the case and endeavored to have people give thanks to God for unkindness, injustice, lovelessness—to a God whose mercy never reached us and would never reach any but a small proportion of our race through the knowledge of Christ; to a God whose mercy, even to the one-tenth of those who had ever heard of him, he said, would endure only for the present life and even among these bring a blessing only to a mere handful of the elect?

Let us go back to the Word of God and free our minds of the prejudices of superstition and misinterpretation handed down from the Dark Ages. Let us see the glory of our God, as revealed in the Bible. Let Christians give thanks that, by the grace of God, their eyes and ears of understanding are opening to a better knowledge of him. Let them give thanks, not only for redemption from the death sentence, but also for their call to sainthood and its consequent suffering in this present time and its promise of reward of glory on the spirit plane by and by.

Let the world give thanks in proportion as it is able to discern God's goodness and mercy for Adam's race—that eventually through the channel of the glorified Church the Divine blessing will be extended to every member of Adam's race, giving opportunity to all to attain life everlasting with full human perfection and an everlasting Eden upon this new sin-cursed earth.

Lesson X.—Fourth Quarter, For Dec. 4, 1910.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Matt. xxvi, 31-35, 69-75—Memory Verses, 74, 75—Golden Text, I Cor. x, 12—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

As we read the first part of our lesson and consider the boastful self confidence of Peter and his assertion "Though all men shall be offended because of Thee, yet will I never be offended," then to the Saviour's "This night, before the cock crow, thou shalt deny Me thrice," his further more emphatic assertion, "Though I should die with Thee, yet will I not deny Thee," how do we pity him and all the disciples, for they all asserted the same. It was as if Peter said: "Lord, Thou dost not know me. Thou canst surely count on me to be true at any cost." Do we see ourselves? Have we ever sung "Surely the Captain May Depend on Me"? If so, were we not as foolishly boastful as Peter? How the Lord must have pitied him! How He pities us! None can be saved until they know that they are lost, for He came to save the lost. The condition of every sinner before God is guilty, without strength, ungodly, enemies, enmity against God, dead in sins, children of disobedience and wrath, having no hope and without God in the world (Rom. iii, 10; v, 6, 10; viii, 7; Eph. ii, 1-3, 5, 12). Such helpless, hell-deserving sinners Jesus saves fully and forever by His finished work without any help from us whatever. When saved we are just as helpless to live a Christian life and to serve Him as we were to save ourselves. So the great lesson for the saved sinner to learn is the significance of "Not I, but Christ." "Not I, but the grace of God." "Without Me ye can do nothing" (Gal. ii, 20; I Cor. xv, 10; John xv, 5). Unless it is God who worketh in us both to will and to do of His good pleasure the work cannot stand, but will prove to be only wood, hay and stubble. We must be ever watchful, prayerful, submitting to God and resisting the devil, if we would walk worthy of Him who hath called us to His Kingdom and glory. We have seen Peter daring to rebuke the Lord as He spoke of suffering, though the Scriptures may be said to be full of predictions concerning the sufferings of the Messiah. We have heard him say: "We have left all for Thee. What shall we have, therefore?" We have also heard him say: "Thou shalt never wash my feet." We have heard his self confident boasting that he was ready to die with Christ. Yet he have seen him taking off a man's ear, for a little while forsaking Christ, then following afar off, then in company with the enemies of Christ and warming himself at their fire. What can we expect next from such a man?

The damsel who kept the door as she saw him sit by the fire warming himself looked earnestly upon him and said, "And thou also wast with Jesus of Nazareth." Compare the four accounts. But he denied, saying, "Woman, I know Him not; neither understand I what thou sayest." Alas, alas, how can we account for it? Did the devil, who led Judas Iscariot to betray Christ, take possession of Peter also? Even so, for on a previous occasion Jesus had to say to Peter, "Get thee behind me, Satan" (Matt. xvi, 23). On the Passover night the Lord said, "Simon, behold, Satan hath desired to have you (B. V., asked to have you), that he may sift you as wheat, but I have prayed for thee that thy faith fail not" (Luke xxi, 31, 32).

After that first denial he went out into the porch, and the cock crew. Then another maid saw him and began to say to them that stood by, "This fellow was also with Jesus of Nazareth." And again he denied with an oath, "I do not know the man." If he had only left the bad company as soon as he found himself falling he might have repented sooner, but it is growing worse—the second denial was accompanied by an oath. About an hour later another confidently affirmed, saying to Peter, "Surely thou art one of them, for thou art a Galilean, and thy speech agreeth thereto." The kinsman of the man whose ear Peter cut off said, "Did not I see thee in the garden with Him?" Then he began to curse and to swear, saying, "I know not this man of whom ye speak." And immediately, while he yet spake, the cock crew the second time, and the Lord turned and looked upon Peter. And Peter, called to mind the word that Jesus said unto him, "Before the cock crow twice thou shalt deny me thrice" (Mark xiv, 30-32). And when he thought thereon he went out and wept bitterly. This was not like the remorse of Judas Iscariot, which led to suicide, but there were tears of true penitence.

How much do we know of the comfort of the assurance that "He ever liveth to make intercession for us" (Heb. vii, 25). Do we lay it to heart that the same great adversary is ever seeking to cause the saints to fall, and he may bring reproach upon that beautiful name by which we are called? He does not ask for the un saved, because they belong to him. He did not ask for Judas Iscariot, but he did ask for John and for Peter. Let us never make light of him, for he is too formidable an enemy. Let us not be afraid of him, for we have a shield to quench his fiery darts and a sword with which to conquer him (Eph. vi, Rev. xii).

Orris Root.

The orris root, so familiar to lovers of perfumes, should really be called Iris root, since it is made from the roots, or rather rootstocks, of several species of Iris, especially Germanica, the common blue flag of the gardens, and Iris Florentina, a white variety. It is reported that the root has to be dried and preserved for some time before the fragrance is fully developed. The freshly dug plants have no fragrance.—American Botanist.

BUSINESS HAS

FALLEN OFF

George A. Post, of Railway Business Mens' Association, Talks on the Situation.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—George A. Post, of New York, president of the Railway Business Association, testified before the Interstate Commerce Commission Wednesday that the main purpose of his organization was to promote friendly relations between the railroads and the public. "We have learned in the past two or three years," said he, "that conservative talk is better than vitriol. We are organized good humor; not organized gloom."

Mr. Post said the purchase of the railroads had diminished very markedly in the last four or five months. "The official reports of the roads to the commission," intervened Commissioner Prouty, "indicate that the increases in maintenance of way and equipment are greater than in the methods of conducting transportation. How do you then account for your statement that your business has been falling off?"

"The falling off dates back to the first of June," replied Mr. Post. "Do you know of an instance where the railroads have suspended any work of development already begun?" persisted Mr. Prouty. "Not at this moment," replied the witness.

"You believe," asked Mr. Prouty, "that if the commission would allow an increase it would stimulate other lines of business so as to justify the railroads in developing their own systems?"

"What the roads do in their own business I don't know," replied the witness. "When the roads receive such increased revenues and get in the frame of mind that would naturally follow, there would be an enlargement of prosperity, a giving of employment to the many people dependent on the spread of their money to local merchants and so on."
